JIWA PENUH SINAR

Inspiration

The concept came at a time of inner introspection. The themes throughout the collection explore concepts of “interconnectedness”, “flow”, and “light”. There is a sense that we are growing and changing in flow with one another.

Like a domino effect, we felt that we were all changing in unison, inspired and affected by those around us. We are shifting in unison to the themes of personal awareness, resilience, understanding of purpose.

The third theme is “light”; that our journeys are guided by the inner compass, our souls filled with light, love, hope for what is to come.

The Colors

Illustrated on pastel hues in semi precious stones;
like Rose Quartz, Amethyst, Blue Amazonite, and Pearl.
Fixating on colors that bring a sense of vibrancy, hope, and light.

The Motif & Technique

A new motif is used to characterize the “Flow” components; an organic shapes handcrafted line by line, bump by bump. Each components are individually cut and welded together. One “Flow” component is made up from 10 different pieces - extremely time consuming as well as labour intensive. It resulted in a new shape and motif that has never been used before in our design history - it encapsulates the depth and movements through Tulola's jewelry.

This new motif “Flow” is first introduced into this collection, outwardly arranged in a layered and blooming arrays - in all direction one upon another. This visually and physically depicts the themes of “Interconnectedness, Flows and Lights”.

A particular, reoccurring motif of series of raw and organic flowers motifs in different stages of blooming - interjecting themselves in the arrangement of the “Flow” motifs, as a symbolism of the challenges and rawness that is often experienced in the growth process.
