ZEN

Find your inner peace thanks to two different design philosophies

Visit this Japanese brand's online store for a taste of wabi-sabi design. You will find everyday tools and objects designed with care to enhance daily life. Its products include natural wood-grain vessels and bamboo basketry created in the ancient Momoyama tradition. (shop.ricordi-sfera.com)

VENUSROX

Victoria and Matt Forster, the owners of this exquisite Notting Hill crystal emporium, only source natural stones with good energy (this is more scientific than it sounds: think about quartz's ability to regulate a watch). They won't blind you with any New Age philosophy; instead, the idea is to let each customer be drawn towards the crystals they like, whether a polished obsidian ball, a hunk of halite, or amethyst. 25 All Saints Road, London W11 (venusrox.com)
