

LOGAN

COLLECTION

The Logan name is synonymous with New Zealand's burgeoning boat building industry at the turn of the 20th century, designing and building some of the most famous yachts of the time including Iriki and Rawene. Some of these beautiful ships still grace harbours around New Zealand today with their full white canvas sails, uniformed crew, polished decks and immaculately wound ropes. The Logan chair references the ropes that you see carefully wrapped on the decks as they sail past.

BY COVE OUTDOOR

LOGAN
DINING CHAIR

DESIGNER

Cove Outdoor

DESCRIPTION

Elliot features CKD-MemoryRope® made from polyolefin threads woven to look like a rope, this is one of the latest trends in outdoor furniture materials. Highly fade, rot and UV resistant, MemoryRope® has a soft elastic feel to maximise comfort whilst retaining its original form. Elliot uses a powder coated aluminium frame - arguably the easiest care material available for outdoor furniture. Cove Outdoor use only extruded and clean dipped rust-free aluminium, powder coated and baked to create highly durable paint finish.

MATERIALS

Frame : Cove aluminium is cleaned and pre-dipped prior to a powder coating being applied electrostatically.

Upholstery : Polyolefin CKD-MemoryRope® specifically developed for outdoor use.

FINISHES

FRAME

WENGE

WEAVE

GRAPHITE ROPE

LOGAN COLLECTION

LOGAN Dining Chair
Graphite rope in deep olive green, Wenge aluminium frame

LOGAN Footstool
Graphite rope in deep olive green, Wenge aluminium frame

LOGAN Lounge chair and footstool setting

LOGAN Lounge Chair
Graphite rope in deep olive green, Wenge aluminium frame