 U.S. ENZYMES

NUTRITION

Master Supplements, U.S. Enzymes and Tomorrow's Nutrition Pro all recently came together and became collectively stronger. While each company had its specialty, together Healthcare Professionals now have access to a full range of probiotic, enzyme and fiber supplements.

Master Supplements' probiotic products rely on high-quality strains, patented deep delivery, and the prebiotic LactoStim®, which dramatically enhances probiotic growth and activity. Our simple philosophy is based on the fact that Lactobacillus bacteria and Bifidobacteria affect the immune system differently, colonize specific areas of the G.I. tract, and should therefore be supplemented accordingly.

U.S. Enzymes forged a full line of powerful enzyme supplements, some offering broad support while others were designed for a targeted approach. Certain formulations support digestive health and others work systemically, allowing for customized enzymatic protocols.

Tomorrow's Nutrition Pro offers a wide range of products with simple active ingredients that are supported by research and proven efficacy. The SunFiber® ingredient is the most clinically studied fiber source on the planet and is a perfect combination for probiotics and enzymes.

All told, these three Minnesota-based companies are stronger together. We share the core values of high-quality, honesty, and most importantly helping those in need. Our collective future has never been brighter. Thank you for your interest in the following products.
