Thank you for purchasing our custom Contest Hole Signs. We wanted to give you a little information on the proper care of these signs to minimize any reorder cost to you.

Please use caution when unpacking and when storing these signs. Yes, they do stack, but doing so can result in scratches if the metal rubs against other metal, so please let your staff know to take care of them.

The Contest Hole Signs and back plates are made from aluminum that is plasma cut and then powder coated. Powder coating increases the durability and we use a textured finish to hide scratches, but they can occur from damage to the metal such as being dropped, a club head hitting one, etc. We also use nylon screws to help prevent scratches as much as possible.

Touch up paint is available for sale to fix any minor scratches that may occur during the season. Please contact your Account Manager to order touch up paint.

Thank you for your support of PTE Golf as we continue to grow and help enhance your image.

Sincerely,

Matt Pollitt
