

PARENTAL LEAVE GIFTS THAT SHOW you care

IT'S TIME TO SAY MORE THAN "CONGRATS!"

FOR THE PRICE OF A BOUQUET OF FLOWERS,
YOU CAN GIVE THE GIFT OF care

OUT WITH THE OLD

Sending flowers + baby blankets are nice congratulatory gifts, but does it take care of your employee? Imagine the new mom receiving something meant just for her among all the baby gifts, that makes her feel cared for and supported by you, her employer.

SUPPORTING MOTHERS IN THE workplace

Did you know that nearly half of working mothers take a career break after the birth of their children? Since replacing an employee is much more expensive than retaining one, it's important to consider what you can do as an employer to support her new role as a mother.

Our gifts are designed to nurture women through the transitional time of new motherhood. Let us help make sure your mama and mama-to-be employees feel valued and cared for by you.

HEAR THE DIFFERENCE

"To receive a gift from my employers meant for me was so much more impactful than flowers or a food basket. All the gifts I got were for the baby so getting something meant for my healing, especially from work, made me feel like they really care about me."

- Camille B., second time mama - San Diego, CA

"Since we started gifting your care packages, we have gotten so much more positive feedback from our employees than when we sent baby blankets. It clearly makes a difference."

- Andy B., owner of Evergreen Herbal Co. - Seattle, WA

ABOUT US

After having our first child, I noticed how surrounded I was by things to help my baby transition into the outside world, but nothing to help me transition into the world of motherhood. Through some highs and lows, I discovered the hard way that taking time to care for me made me a better mama. I felt called to create something that supports mommies in the tender, beautiful and challenging chapter of early motherhood.

Thank you for considering our gifts as a token of your support toward your new mom employees.
