Cleansers are one of the most known and purchased products on the market, but they are also one of the most widely misunderstood. The base of any good routine along with the appropriate moisturizer and sunscreen, this type of product removes dirt, oil, dead skin cells, and other pollutants. However, skin care experts know cleansers can do even more, like brightening, hydrating, fighting free radicals, tightening pores, preventing redness, and so on. Take a peek at these top-notch cleansers for various skin types.
