“Green is our most highly requested colored stone. Our project with Fuli allows us to showcase fully traceable stones and demonstrate their journey from the mine to the finished piece. Our customers are eager to factor this feature into their buying decisions, and Fuli peridot allows us to do that. We bonded over our passion for the environment and our desire to create momentum for more transparency in the industry over how gemstones are mined. I was inspired by the genuine ambition of Fuli to pioneer a new environmentally sensitive approach to mining. the velvety green color the mine produces is incredibly captivating” says Rosena Sammi, founder of The Jewelry Edit.

“I love Pippa Small’s bold peridot ring,” says Rosena Sammi. “Its understated design and perfect proportion and balance let the striking beauty of the tumbled Fuli peridot shine. It’s a signature Pippa style that we are excited to showcase.”
