

It is possible to streaming the videos contained in the DVDs onto tablets, smartphones and PCs. "Streaming" means that it is not possible to download the workouts but they can be watched while connected to the internet.

1. Stamina Products (the manufacturer of Aeropilates in the United States) gives access via one of these two addresses (both lead to the same page): <https://video.staminaproducts.com> (this is the address you find on the card in the Aeropilates box) or <https://staminaproducts.com/products/video-on-demand/>

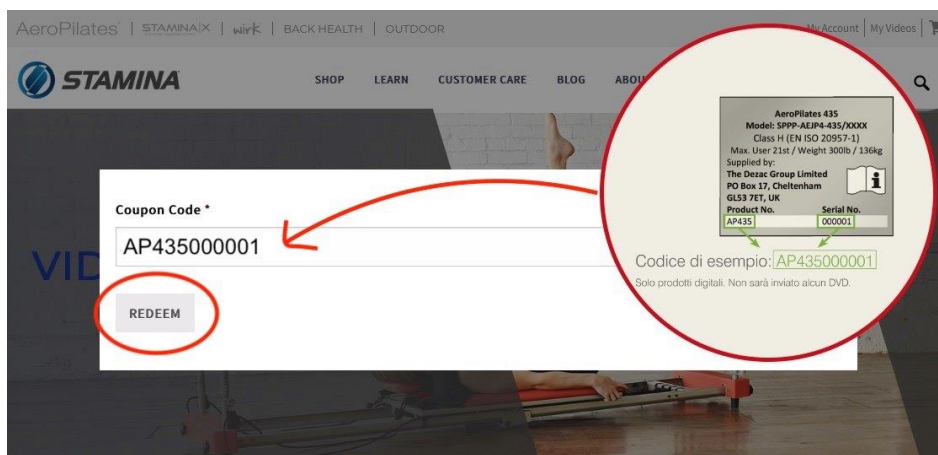

Tip: Save one of these links as every now and then video codes are given away on the Aeropilates Facebook page.

2. Click on the "Redeem a Code" button.

3. A popup opens with the word "Coupon Code".

Enter the code found on the silver label on the back of the Aeropilates Reformer. The code is created by combining the characters from the "Product No" and "Serial No." There is no need for spaces or other symbols between the character sets. Once the code has been entered, click the "Redeem" button.

- After a few seconds, the shopping cart page opens where the "Subtotal" ("Subtotal") in dollars is indicated in the "Summary" section. The previously entered code is valid as a coupon that brings the total to zero dollars. There will be many videos in the cart, organised into groups: each group (which shows the price alongside) corresponds to a DVD (in fact, each DVD contains several videos).
