Owen and Mícheál Ó Súilleabháin are singers, musicians and brothers from Ireland. From an esteemed musical family, they are master performers of ancient and modern traditions of singing and poetry, from Latin Gregorian chant to Irish language pre Christian spiritual and traditional song. They have collaborated with David for well over 10 years now on his tours of Ireland, England and Italy, and Mícheál published his first collection of poetry, EARLY MUSIC, with Many Rivers Press in 2020. The brothers Ó Súilleabháin return to Asilomar this year to contribute their wide range of song and story.*
