

Protect what protects you

ION* goes beyond the average probiotic or supplement to embrace health at a cellular level. By drawing inspiration from the intelligence of nature (and the ground from which it sprouts), our soil-derived solution is innately designed to protect and nourish your gut. Build a strong defense against toxins and naturally reawaken microbial communication. The benefits that follow from that beautifully balanced combination are vast.

Our environment should work with us, not against us.

Glyphosate, and other harmful chemicals, damage our relationship with nature by tearing apart tight junctions at the gut lining. Fortunately, ION* works to rekindle the connection.

Epithelial cells after the introduction of glyphosate. Tight junctions are damaged.

Damaged epithelial cells after the introduction of ION*. Tight junctions have been restored.
