LIST

Bazaar fashion market editor Mallory Schlaw shares her must-haves

This fall I plan on expanding my jewelry collection, and Proenza Schouler's rings (1) are at the top of my list. The built-in handkerchief collar gives this classic white shirt a twist (2). It's the perfect layering piece. I'm always looking to add color, and these royal blue studs (3) are just right.

This Burberry cape (4) was the standout from London Fashion Week—what's not to love about wearing a blanket on the street? My new go-to silhouette is the wide leg, so I'll be investing in these leather pants (5). Given my current love affair with accessories, I'm coveting this sculptural bracelet (6). These stacked-heel boots (7) will add a pop of red to my wardrobe.

Christopher Kane was my favorite show in London, especially his layered organza dresses (8). I'm obsessed with mom-jeans style; this custom-painted pair (9) has a cool factor, and I love that part of the proceeds goes to charity. Alexander Wang's round utilitarian bags (10) are my pick of the season. Finally, you can't beat a sweatshirt that's chic enough for the office (11).
