TELR Light and Optic Summary

Lights summary:

TELR X4000 models are intended to accommodate mounted lights regarded as “full size” with two CR123 batteries installed side by side. They will afford the least amount of interior holster movement and are regarded as having both the least potential for noise (rattle) and the most potential security.

TELR X5000 models are intended to accommodate mounted lights regarded as “compact” with one CR123 battery installed in parallel to the direction of the lens will fit.

Users may find that rail mounted compact lights fit into models intended for full size lights. However, they can create a gap between the light and the holster body which increases movement in the holster. This movement can result in increased noise (rattle) and greater potential to lever the firearm off the internal retention mechanism.

Lights, full size or compact, that are equipped with under mounted laser aiming devices will not fit in the TELR. Accommodating them would mean opening the gap below the trigger guard and potentially allowing for debris or other objects to be introduced into the holster.

Examples of full size lights that may be accommodated in the TELR X4000 include but may not be limited to:

Streamlight TLR-1, TLR-1S, TLR-1 HL, TLR-VIR, TLR-VIR II, TLR 3

Surefire X300V-B, X300V, X300U-B, X300U-A

Nightstick TWM-350, TWM-850XL, TWM-850XLS, TWM-30

Insight / Eotech M3, M3X, M5, SSL-1

Inforce WML, WMLX

Olight PL – Pro Valkyrie, PL-2

Examples of compact lights that may be accommodated in the TELR X5000 include but may not be limited to:

Streamlight TLR – 7, TLR -7A, TLR – 8, TLR – 9

Surefire XSC

Nightstick TCM–550XL, TCM-550XLS

Inforce WILD1

Olight PL – MINI, MINI 2

OPTICS SUMMARY

TELR models with an open front above the slide near the rear sight are intended to accommodate most commonly used optics. Models intended to accommodate optics can be identified by the item SKU (please see TELR SKU summary). The popularity of mounted optics has resulted in fast paced product development and evolution. Evolving optic dimensions, protective shrouds, and mounting methods may affect the holster fit for firearms with mounted optics. As of the date of this Fit Chart, examples of optics that may be accommodated includes but may not be limited to:

Vortex Venom

Vortex Viper

Trijicon SRO
