GUN SAFE ACCESSORY COMPANY BANNED FROM FACEBOOK ADVERTISING

Bloomington, IL - February 7, 2019 - Gun Storage Solutions, manufacturer of gun safe accessories, has been shut down from advertising on Facebook.

Gun Storage Solutions manufactures products that aid in the safe storage of firearms within a gun safe. Their products Rifle Rods and Handgun Hangers will store a growing gun collection efficiently and safely within a small, secure space where the real estate is in high demand.

"The status of our advertising account with Facebook has been hit and miss for years because of confusion with whether or not we violate their policy on guns," says Katie Stephey, Gun Storage Solutions VP of Marketing. "Ultimately our account has been blocked without further opportunity to appeal for our ads."

It is no surprise that a privately owned company like Facebook has a strict policy against advertising the sale or use of firearms. However, Facebook is now discriminating against companies that provide products to help safely and securely store firearms.

With a mission to safely store firearms in a locked safe, out of the hands of criminals and curious children, why take away an advertising outlet from Gun Storage Solutions?

Gun Storage Solutions, and other companies that create products that work to preserve our civil right to bear arms, are all being swept up in this ban. Facebook is not the only culprit. Other large corporations give the illusion that they are doing what is necessary to fight gun violence. However, their answer is to undermine the Second Amendment by including manufacturers that increase the safety and security of gun ownership.

Gun Storage Solutions creates products that move us forward in retaining both our civil right to bear arms and to do so safely and responsibly. This advertising ban on gun safety products must end.
