Product Function

The MOBILELOCK™ DS410 Power Switch allows an external siren, strobe, camera or other device to be connected to your DS600 Mobilelock and activate on an alarm. Plug the connector that looks like a USB into the data port on the DS600. Connect the load that is to be controlled by the switch to the Normally Open and Common connections on the DS410 terminal block. To control the switch, log into your MOBILELOCK™ account and select your device on the Configure Units Page. Under Sensors, in the Unit Settings area, select “Manage Plug-In Sensors”. Check the box “I2C Power on Alarm” box and select a length of time you wish for the siren or strobe to run after an alarm happens. Then click “Submit Changes”.

Wiring Instructions

The following instructions are for wiring the DS406 siren to the DS410 Power Switch:

For a pulsed siren sound: Connect the red wire into the “NO” port (Normally Open) on the DS410 using 16-18 gauge low voltage wire. Expose just enough of the bare wire before inserting and screw securely in place. Connect the black wire to the charger or + on the battery. Then connect the – on the battery or from the charger to the “COM” port on the DS410. Tape off the unused yellow wire.

For a steady siren tone use the yellow wire instead of the red wire and tape off the unused red wire.
