Attention Mr. GARY ALLSOP.

Dear Gary,

Following your recent roof treatment to the rear sections of our warehouse with the ASTEC protective coating, we are very happy to advise that the temperature difference between pre treatment and now is more marked than we would have believed.

The main portion of this part of the warehouse as you will recall is Cliplock roofing, and whilst we had been keen to extend our storage facilities into this area, the summer temperatures under this roof made this impractical.

However since the treatment this section is now comfortably tenable and extended storage expansion is in progress.

Two side benefits that we did not fully realise would occur are,

- (1) The air conditioner in the immediately adjoining area is more effective and can be comfortably run on a lower power setting.
- (2) We have noticed an improvement in the acoustics in the area, which whilst unexpected, is probably logical because of the nature of the insulating properties of the coating.

We were influenced in the decision to have the treatment done through comments from some of your clients and we feel quite justified with that decision.
