What do you like most about working at Robertson Bathware?

The freedom to get the job done. Our big focus on customer service and getting the project or product right for the customer is a big focus at Robertson Bathware.

What bathroom trends in 2023 are you most excited about?

Personalising your bathroom with a statement piece, like a coloured stone basin or a freestanding bath, or even some cool wall paper to bring your own personality into your bathroom.

What's your favourite product to specify and why?

I really love our Zucchetti Medameda tapware. It has a unique design and shape that is quite different to anything on the market and it pairs well with most basin, bath and showering shapes.

What do you like most about working at Robertson Bathware?

I see Robertson Bathware as a forward thinking and fast moving organisation, where I have the ability to contribute to it's development.

What bathroom trends in 2023 are you most excited about?

I am seeing a lot more colours in the industry, in tapware, basins and baths. More people seem to be breaking the traditional mould of neutral colour palettes.

What's your favourite product to specify and why?

My favourite product to specify is the Elementi Uno tapware range. It's well designed and extremely durable. I want confidence in whatever I specify.

What do you like most about working at Robertson Bathware?

Working within a fantastic team who provide continuity of product range from our local and overseas suppliers. Also our ability to change and lead in market trends.

What bathroom trends in 2023 are you most excited about?

We are able to supply a wide range of colour and textures in different products throughout our ranges.

What's your favourite product to specify and why?

The Bare concrete range that is made in New Zealand. It's fantastic to see a local product meeting the demands of design, texture and colour, all in one range.
