getting started

Congrats! You now have your personal link! You are on your way.

Your back office area. This is the hub where you will find everything you need to get started and to track how well your marketing is working. Access this area at coleherbals.goaffpro.com.

Are you as excited as I am? I hope so! Your Referral URL is where everything starts. This Referral URL is created from the coupon code you choose when starting your journey.

From the Marketing Tools Tab, you can generate your links for every product you wish to market. Go on, give it a try! Some helpful hints:

1. Save the generated product links that you will use often.
2. Use a link shortener so you can track how successful your marketing efforts are.

about Coleherbals

What makes Coleherbals unique?

Ingredients you can pronounce.

Some "natural product" companies add fillers and chemicals and call themselves "plant-based." Coleherbals ingredients are truly plant-based and thought goes into every ingredient added.

Moral based

Coleherbals believes in helping people feel better and helping people live better lives. We know life can be hard and that is why we offer the affiliate opportunity so we can give back. We also know that finding high-quality products that are chemical-free can be frustrating and difficult. We've made the search easier by offering products for everyone.

A Corporate Team that understands

Linda Langenbacher has formed a team of individuals who are not only great at what they do, but who care about helping people. The formulator she works with is highly trained and develops products with you and your children in mind. Linda has come from a corporate background and has brought experience to bringing the best customer service a company has to offer and only hires people who care about the bottom line - developing the best product and helping the customers.

your role

Have fun and show off the products.

Somehow, you found Coleherbals, filled out the application, and were chosen to share the Coleherbals brands with your audience. Now, you have the opportunity to start earning money!

You can use our product photos and posts on occasion, but our expectation is that you will take unique photos and videos showing how you, your family, and your friends incorporate our products into your lives. Tell a story of how it helped you! Discover something new about our products that other products don't have and share that.

Share with your email list and always look for new opportunities to grow your email list. Some ideas for creating more leads are offering giveaways, creating a landing page with an email opt-in with your affiliate coupon code providing a percentage off, and asking for referrals from your audience.

Important! Remember that our products are not classified as drugs, as they only are in support of health and wellness and do not treat or cure.

launch progress

Are you ready to track your progress?

- ✓ Product research: What product will you be able to promote the best that your audience will love? Why did you pick this product?

- ✓ Target audience: What will your audience engage with the most? What type of media do they want to see? Video, illustration, lifestyle photo, etc?

- ✓ Feedback list: What tools do you need to help you reach your goals? Make a list and reach out to support@coleherbals.com once you have a strategy and goals in place.

Q&A

Here are some of the most-asked questions.

- ✓ Where are the ingredients sourced and manufactured?

All ingredients are organic or ethically wildcrafted in the U.S.A. Our vendors ensure that all products are picked from farms, or in the wild, away from roads and where there is more of the herb grown, to ensure the integrity and future of herbs.
- ✓ Are the products safe to use?

Our products have been made with quality and families in mind and have not harmed anyone. The only person who can answer if a product is safe for an individual is a family physician and/or pharmacist. Also, remember that a patch test is important to ensure there are no allergies or sensitivities.
- ✓ Why are you not FDA approved?

Great question! We do not claim our products as drugs. Our products are made to help people feel better and not to treat or cure any illness. Due to this, we do not fall under the drug category and do not need to be FDA approved. We do follow their guidelines though!
- ✓ I'm pregnant. Can I use your products?

We cannot tell you if a product is safe for you to use. That is a question that only your doctor or pharmacist can answer. There are so many variables, including allergies, pregnancy, medications, etc. that it is impossible to know.

best sellers

A little information goes a long way!

BEST SELLER
