Dear Phyloscience,

Vital Humic™ Hydro Bio is a great amendment to add to soil and feeding regiments. The unique blend adds microbials and molasses as well as the benefits humic acid. We applied it directly to the soil in the preparation stage on the fields to build the microbial colonies before transplanting. Vital Humic™ was also added to our seeding greenhouse from the beginning, and plants were rooted and ready in 18-21 days verse 28 days or greater without it. The plants had shown better color in the leaves, as well as overall branch growth and size. We continued the feeding into the fields and applied foliar feeding weekly to boost the plants while adding molasses to help control pests and mitigate fungus levels. We saw benefits at all stages of cultivation while using this product, specially in rooting and early propagation stages. Vital Humic™ has replaced 3 products in my operation by combining what I was looking for; microbials, molasses and humic acid. Its easy to mix and brew in any application and applies without any residuals left behind. I will be continuing to use this product in all our cannabis farms going forward.

Sincerely,

Kevin Stephens, CEO
