

Ring Size Converter

Please try and ensure that the ring you have ordered is the correct size. We have tried to make this process as easy as possible by providing the following ring size chart. If you are still unsure, please call our studio and we will happily help you through the process. In the event that the size you selected is still wrong (e.g. for a gift), be assured that we will work together to rectify the issue - just send the item back to us and we will resize or exchange at our expense and have it couriered safely back to you. Simply use the circles below to measure your ring size, using your existing rings. Make sure you line the circles up with the inside of your band, to identify your size.
