

About the Author

Jacqueline A. Gibbons is an ethnographer, cultural sociologist and Professor Emeritus in Toronto, Canada.

Jacqueline was born in St. Merryn, Cornwall, U.K., and spent her formative years within the sights, sounds and ambiance of aircraft.

She has done research in Australia, Egypt, Japan and India. Her numerous publications examine contexts of human imagination, challenge and creativity.