CARE AND USE

“Cookcell Hybrid cookware combines nonstick coating and stainless steel .

Most parts are made of stainless steel dots.

So please follow the instruction carefully. Over the first few weeks of use your Cookcell Hybrid cookware, it will perform better and better as it re-seasons itself. ”

- Before first use, wash cookware with soap and warm water. Then dry.
- Cookcell Hybrid cookware should be seasoned before first use. Heat pan to low and spread 1 teaspoon of vegetable oil around the interior of the pan. Leave on heat for 1-2 minutes. Then you are ready to cook.
- Most recipes recommend preheating a pan before use. To preheat, place the pan on stove using low- medium heat. After one or two minutes, sprinkle a few drops of water on the surface of the pan. If the water sizzles and forms tiny droplets, the pan is ready for cooking. If the water evaporates immediately, cool pan slightly.
- When cooking eggs, especially egg whites, please use a small amount of butter, oil or spray olive oil. As eggs are one of the stickiest substances this will allow for the egg to release from the pan.
- Low or medium heat is recommended to prevent food from burning.
- High heat may damage cookware and this kind of damage is not covered under the warranty.
- Never heat cookware when empty, never let cookware boil dry.
- Let cookware cool down before cleaning to avoid any damage due to temperature shocks.
- Because Cookcell Hybrid pan has a lot of dots which have large amount extra surface, it would have more heat preservation and faster heat transfer than the conventional pans.
- Cookcell Hybrid cookware is dishwasher safe! It is hybrid pan, which will provide easier cleanup, with nonstick inside when compared to traditional stainless steel cookware.
- Cookcell Hybrid cookware is oven safe up to 260 °C.
- Warning: please use potholders when removing cookware from oven.
- Metal utensils can be used.
- Works on electric, gas, ceramic, halogen and induction cooktop.
