WHOLE SPECTRUM™ YIELD

EFFECTIVE, CHEMICAL-FREE PROCESS

ENHANCED THERAPUTIC EFFECTS

The CBD in KBD products is made from a category-changing, exclusive process that gently protects the plants most valuable molecules. With an effective, clean and chemical-free process, the unique whole-spectrum yield rates are nearly double the industry average with little to no harm to the precious terpenes and cannabinoids within hemp. Left intact, those terpenes and cannabinoids work harmoniously with phytochemicals to enhance the therapeutic effects of the CBD.

This stuff is seriously a life saver. I've tried numerous CBD salves, this one is the best of them all! I could smell the quality as soon as I opened the container. It has helped me with neck pain, foot pain, and tension headaches!

[KBD Salve Customer]

I love the scent combination. It is subtle and earthy and leaves me feeling grounded with every application. It's also nice that the base oil absorbs quickly so you don't have to worry about staining clothing.

[KBD Fragrance No.2 Customer]

I have a lot of allergies which give me a lot of headaches. I rub the oil on my temples and it relaxes you and your headaches disappear. I also love the smell!

Hi, I'm Kelly Baier

KBD OIL FOUNDER + CEO

The conception of KBD Oil began in the way so many small business stories do — I was looking for a product and quality that simply didn't exist in the market. In search of the ideal fragrance, I discovered that so many store bought perfumes were chemical laden or too overpowering. It was at that point, I began the creative process of formulating new fragrance blends. Blends that felt balancing, smelled distinctive and, most importantly, were chemical-free.

The true realization of the full product line came later through the incorporation of hemp. Certain this would only elevate their uniqueness and power, I began to research. The first step was getting a Hemp Processor's License, allowing me to be part of every step of development (aside from plant growing). Throughout the process, I learned all CBD is not created equally. Each unique extraction method yields very different results. So, step two was selecting what I truly believe to be the most superior CBD available — both by numbers (highest industry yield rate) and purity (we're working on an organic certification). The final step was taking all of that newfound knowledge (and the highest-quality CBD) and infusing it into KBD's fragrances, salves, and tinctures.

Ultimately, knowing I'm contributing to every customer's healing through products made with love and a safe, authentically pure CBD, is what keeps me going every day.
