

NATURAL WHEAT CLEANSER

Our skin is exposed to free radical damage on a daily basis and those with sensitive or easily irritated skin often feel discomfort soon after cleansing. That is what makes Savarnas Mantra Natural Wheat Cleanser the perfect product to wash off daily buildup and protect the skin from any further damage to come.

HOW IS THIS CLEANSER DIFFERENT?

Natural derivatives are added for an array of benefits. These derivatives originate from renewable vegetable oil often used for cleansing and protection of the skin from any harmful buildup while simultaneously reducing any irritation. Due to its calming and soothing properties, it is perfect for sensitive and allergy-prone skin.

A composite blend of naturally derived surfactants from coconut and sunflower oil is infused into the formula. This unique blend serves as a gentle but deep cleanser leaving the skin soft to the touch. It eliminates the tight, dry feeling that is typically experienced with use of harsh surfactants.

Coupled with the skin softening and deep cleansing ingredients are two ingredients that play a role in the after-cleansing experience. Strawberry oil is used to give the cleanser a refreshing and uplifting aroma while Lycopene, a carotene derived from tomatoes, fights any free radical or environmentally stressed damage that could harm the skin throughout the day.

BENEFITS OF COCONUT EXTRACT

Coconut has natural antibacterial, antifungal and moisturizing properties. It provides excellent moisture to the skin leaving it soft and supple for long. It even works wonders when used to remove makeup from the skin, leaving the area well hydrated. It has the benefits of Vitamin E, proteins, lauric acid, capric and caprylic acids. Coconut repairs your skin and acts as a natural barrier, thereby trapping moisture.

The natural antimicrobial property of the coconut extract makes it the apt ingredient to use in the cleanser. It will kill off any surface bacteria that you may have picked up during the day.

The product therefore serves as an excellent cleanser for any skin type and has been specially designed for daily use. It provides relaxing and protective benefits to the skin.
