Precautions for Use

- The tabletop of this product may become warped, distorted, or cracked depending on its usage conditions and storage conditions. Do not store or use in areas where a heater applies direct heat, areas with direct sunlight for long periods of time, or in a vehicle in the summertime.
- Leaving this product in the rain or in contact with water for an extended period of time will cause the water to permeate its coating, resulting in staining, discoloration, warping, and/or distortion.
- This product is not meant for permanent use. Leaving heavy objects on the tabletop permanently could result in warping.
- Hitting the tabletop could damage its coating or make it easier for moisture to get inside, resulting in staining, discoloration, warping, and/or distortion.
- The tabletop may fade or become discolored with use. Localized temperature increases may also encourage fading or discoloration.
- This product is made of processed and laminated bamboo. Each one will vary in terms of color density and texture. Please enjoy its natural colors and textures.
- Do not attempt to modify this product. Doing so may impair its functionality or decrease its strength. Modification will result in the product no longer being eligible for after-sales services.
- Sitting on the table or placing heavy objects on it will damage the table or cause it to collapse. For your safety, do not place anything weighing 5kg or more on the table.
- After use, wipe off dirt with a well-wrung cloth, allow the table to dry fully in a well-ventilated, shady area and store in a location with little humidity.

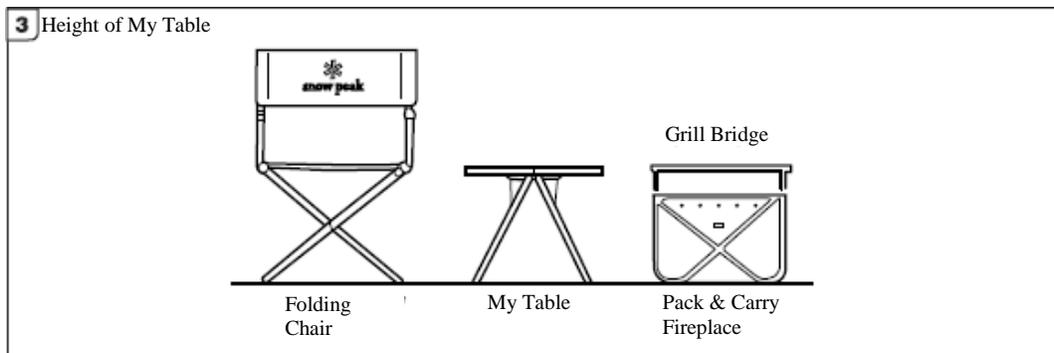

Setting Up

One way to fold up the table is by holding the left and right sides of the table and folding them inwards. However, another option is the method shown in the diagram above. We recommend this smooth and silent folding method, in which there is no sound of contact between the legs, springs or tabletop. Furthermore, the legs and tabletop hitting each other will likely cause scratches, so it is always best to use this method to fold up the table.

For your safety, set the table on the ground and gently push down on the entire tabletop from above, ensuring that the tabletop stopper mechanism is engaged and at the same time adjusting the tabletop if it is slanted. Note that there are points where there may be gaps between the springs and the metal fittings on the underside of the tabletop. Adjust the table so that the four gaps are even.

If you use My Table as a set with Snow Peak's Folding Chair, the chair cushion and the tabletop are about the same height, so you can comfortably use the table for plates and cups or barbecue ingredients in a natural position. The height of My Table is designed to be about the same as the highest setting for Snow Peak's Pack & Carry Fireplace and Grill Bridge.
