THE STORY

Born a million garments ago. A million means lots of stitches, buttons and hours. In other words, tons of experience and hard work.

THE STORY OF BUTCH TAILORS

Butch Tailors is an authentic Belgian company and was founded in 1956 by the Daman family in Liège. Current CEO Dominique Vindevogel acquired the company in the nineties and turned it into a success story. As a pioneer in manufacturing quality garments and tailored suits, it should come as no surprise that craftsmanship and attention to detail are two very important elements that contributed to the success of the brand.

THE MAN BEHIND BUTCH TAILORS

In the ninety's Dominique Vindevogel had the opportunity to acquire the name and knowhow of the brand. He became the director of the company and incorporated a specific vision that is now an integral part of the DNA of the garments. His unique vision and knowhow combined with the skills, traditions and commitment that are an inherent part of the company, resulted into the brand as we know it today.

His passion and innovative creativity are indispensable tools that lead him to international ventures. The result is the international exposure of Butch Tailors in cities such as London, New York, Mexico City and Istanbul. He is not afraid to experiment with colors and specific garment details and he boldly combines British, American and Italian looks as he redefines the definition of a classic look with a twist.

THE COLLECTION

THE PROCESS OF TAILORING

The first step is an informal conversation to learn more about the customer. What are his needs, what is his style and what kind of fabrics does he want? The tailor will then take all the necessary measurements after which the creative process starts. The first appointment will be followed by a fitting appointment.

THE PROCESS OF TAILORING

In the second part of the process the fabrics are selected and a personalized paper pattern is drafted. Once the personalized pattern has been made, it is then laid onto the selected cloth length, chalked around after which the tailoring is cut by hand.

THE PROCESS OF TAILORING

We have three levels of suiting. All our suits are made using the ultimate artisanal tailoring skills. Our suits employ a floating canvas construction in the chest which means the suit breathes, has good flexibility for comfort, adapts to the body and allows for a luxurious appearance by not restricting the natural drape and behaviour of the cloth. For all three levels of manufacturing, the collar, sleeves and canvas pieces are attached by hand.

Once the clients pattern is obtained, reordering and adapting is simple as the personalized pattern is integrated in our system and thus accessible whenever, wherever.

The pick up or delivery of tailor made garments takes place 4 weeks after the initial appointment
