

Accell Home or Away Power Station

Travel Surge Protector with Dual USB Charging

As a travel writer, staying connected is always on my worry list. Sometimes hotel rooms and cruise cabins are challenging to find enough electrical outlets to keep all my gizmos and gadgets charged up and ready for action. Recently, I reviewed the Accell Home or Away Power Station – 3 Outlet Travel Surge Protector and it's such an excellent addition to my travel gear that I wanted to share it with my readers!

The Home or Away device is the ideal solution for use at home or when traveling! It provides 612 Joules of surge protection to all connected devices – good to know! The Power Station features 3 surge protected grounded AC outlets and a folding power plug, providing a compact and portable design for maximum storage and travel convenience.

It is easy to turn any grounded AC outlet into a USB charging station for your mobile devices. The two USB ports (2.1A, shared power) enable the charging of two items at once, perfect for charging mobile devices such as phones, tablets and MP3 players. The Power Station features an LED indicator reporting that the connected equipment is protected. The MSRP for the Home or Away Power Station – 3 Outlet Travel Surge Protector is only $19.99 – so affordable!

Find out more by visiting <http://www.accelcables.com>.

Product for review was supplied at no charge by Accell. Opinions are 100% mine.

Share this: