Chicago Titan 100 Program Honors Adam Kaplan as a Visionary Leader

Titan CEO and headline sponsor Wipfli LLP proudly announce Adam Kaplan as a distinguished member of the 2024 Chicago Titan 100. This elite program acknowledges the top 100 CEOs and C-level executives in Chicago, celebrating their outstanding leadership, vision, and passion within their respective industries. The selected leaders collectively oversee companies employing over 325,000 individuals, contributing to an impressive annual revenue surpassing $42 billion.

Jaime Zawmon, President of Titan CEO, expresses gratitude for the Titan 100, stating, "These visionary leaders inspire the Chicago business community, building unrivaled reputations in their fields. We humbly recognize the Titan 100 for their efforts in shaping the future of the Chicago business landscape."

Adam Kaplan, CEO of Discount Credit Card Supply (DCCSupply), exemplifies the qualities celebrated by the Titan 100. Kaplan's ability to cultivate strong connections and prioritize honest and fair transactions has garnered appreciation from customers, employees, and vendors alike. With roots as a street-level sales representative, he comprehends the needs of customers and imparts his knowledge to his team.

Entering his 16th year in the payment industry, Kaplan has organically grown DCCSupply from an atticbased eBay operation to a 25-person distribution and value-added provider serving diverse businesses. Kaplan's superpower lies in finding solutions beneficial to all parties, emphasizing long-term profitability over short-term gains.

Kaplan underscores the significance of innovative products and solutions in driving DCCSupply's success, stating, "Our strategy of introducing novel products and inventive solutions aimed at streamlining payment processes has been pivotal in driving our success."

Beyond business, Kaplan is empathetic to the needs of his staff, fostering both professional and personal growth. He encourages a healthy work-life balance and values his employees' contributions, trusting their abilities to address business challenges in a collaborative environment.

Gary Shutan, Partner at Wipfli, congratulates all Titan 100 winners, recognizing their lasting impact on the Chicago business landscape. He praises their ingenuity, creativity, and significant contributions to building organizations of significance both locally and globally.
