What others have to say...

"It's been quite easy to start teaching Wilcom software, because you can use it from a basic point of view for students to learn how to digitize and then actually add more tools for new ideas and innovations."

P. KENNY, LONDON COLLEGE OF FASHION

"The adage: 'Work smarter, not harder' has become my motto. A rough drawing is quickly converted to produce a design with real eye-catching flare. Stitch angles can be maneuvered and manipulated, different stitches can be incorporated to create the effects that I have been searching and striving for. Thank you for your dedication in making WILCOM the best in the industry."

D. DE VANEY

After trading into Wilcom:
"...my first client the next day wanted to have their existing art enlarged for another garment and another order. I simply brought up the existing embroidery design in the new Wilcom software, enlarged it and ran it. It ran better than the original!"

Work fluidly between different decoration techniques, visualise the finished results and keep it all in the one file for production.

Built-in Intelligence

Ensure consistent, quality output by taking advantage of EmbroideryStudio's Auto Fabric. It will apply underlay, pull compensation and stitch density settings based on your chosen fabric.
