BAMBOO CLOTHING FACTS

Bamboo fabric is the fiber that is derived from the bamboo plant. The use of bamboo fiber is getting widespread and popular globally. It is fast emerging as the next revolution in the fabric world. Bamboo textile is 100% natural and eco-friendly. It requires less water to cultivate bamboo. It is also 100% biodegradable and thus does not leave harmful footprints. Bamboo fabric is softer and more absorbent than cotton. Let us show you the reasons why organic bamboo is better!

---- LONG-TERM FRESHNESS

Fabrics made using bamboo offer excellent ventilation thanks to the microscopic holes in bamboo fibres. This is why bamboo keeps you feeling fresh and dry significantly longer. Bamboo also has a structure that repels moisture, meaning it wicks away moisture quickly

---- WONDERFULLY SOFT

Another great advantage is the unparalleled softness of bamboo textiles and the excellent comfort offered. The smooth and round structure of the bamboo fibre is the secret behind this fantastic property, as is its absorbency. This structure has no sharp or rough elements that irritate the skin and therefore feels wonderfully soft against the skin. Underwear should be comfortable, and Evoie aims to meet your every need with bamboo.

---- EXCELLENT HEAT REGULATION

Bamboo fabrics also have several insulating properties that influence heat exchange. In warm weather, bamboo fabrics feel fresh while also providing added protection against the chill of a cold day.

---- HYPOALLERGENIC

Bamboo is hypoallergenic, which means that it does not trigger any allergic reactions. This unique property of bamboo is particularly welcome for those who have sensitive skin or suffer from allergies.

---- SWEAT-RESISTANT

Bamboo clothing absorbs up to 70% more moisture than cotton without retaining unpleasant odours. The thermal regulating effect of bamboo fibres helps you stay sweat-free and feeling fresh.

---- ECO-FRIENDLY

Bamboo has a positive impact on global environmental concerns such as water scarcity, deforestation, soil erosion and the greenhouse effect. Bamboo is a by far more sustainable textile than cotton available to help create a better world.
