Last Revised 2/12/2019 - A&D

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

White Oak Plank (or face grain) tabletops are built with parallel strips of wood typically 4" to 6" wide, but vary in width depending on availability. The grain texture is medium to course and shows the elegant natural patterns of the wood. White oak is light brown to dark brown with few instances of sap wood with generally straight grain but curls and knots can appear. Staggered butt joints may be included on longer tables.
