Warning

Never use any fuel-burning products (stoves, lanterns, heaters, etc.) inside or within proximity of this tent. Use of fuel-burning inside or within proximity of this tent can result in the accumulation of dangerous concentrations of carbon monoxide - a colourless, odourless gas. Breathing carbon monoxide will cause serious injury or death. Avoid spraying your tent with deodorant or other aerosols as it may destroy the waterproofing.

Keep all flame and heat sources away from this tent. This tent is made with flame resistant fabric but it is not fireproof. The tent fabric will burn if left in continuous contact with an open flame or other heat source. Failure to keep all flame and heat sources away from this tent can result in a fire that can burn.

Before using this product, read and fully understand: 1) attached warnings; 2) the instruction manual and all accompanying documentation. Failure to follow these directions can cause an unsafe situation leading to injury.

- If you wish to discard this product, please contact your local authorities and ask them for the correct method of disposal.

Cautions

- This product is not intended for use by young children or infirmed persons without supervision.
- Young children should be supervised so that they do not play with the product.
- Contact an authorized service technician for repair or maintenance of this product.
- Installation work must be performed in accordance with any local, state and national Standards.

Safety and Care Considerations

Ventilation

1. Maintain adequate ventilation inside the Tent at all times.

Campsite Choice

1. When choosing a campsite, carefully consider the possibility of falling rocks or tree limbs, lightning, flash floods, avalanches, strong winds, and other potential hazards, to reduce the risk of loss or injury.
2. Keep clear of overhead power lines.
3. Select a site that is level, well drained, and is protected from the wind and other elements
4. Clear the campsite of sharp stones, sticks, and other debris, both for comfort and to protect the floor of the Tent. If possible, avoid setting up the Tent on ground that is already wet.

Pegs and Ropes

1. Peg down the Tent properly at all times to reduce the risk of loss or injury to Tent users.
2. All Tents require pegging to prevent them from being blown away in strong winds. Always anchor the Tent. Tent pegs and guy ropes are supplied to safely setup the Tent in most situations. It may be necessary to purchase additional and/or specialized pegs and ropes for use in extreme or varied soil conditions.
3. Tightly tensioning the Tent with the attached guy ropes greatly increases the Tent's strength and stability.

Cleaning

1. If the Tent should require cleaning, set it up and use a garden hose to wash off dirt. Do not use detergent, soap, bleach, or have the Tent dry cleaned, as this may remove the waterproofing and/or damage the fabric.
2. Allow the Tent to air-dry completely before packing or storing.

Storage

1. Packing and storing the Tent while it's wet or damp leads to premature breakdown of the fabric and coatings. Storing a wet Tent can cause mildew to form on the fabric. Mildew will cause the Tent to stain, smell, and may lead to the premature breakdown of the materials.
2. Dry the Tent thoroughly after every trip.

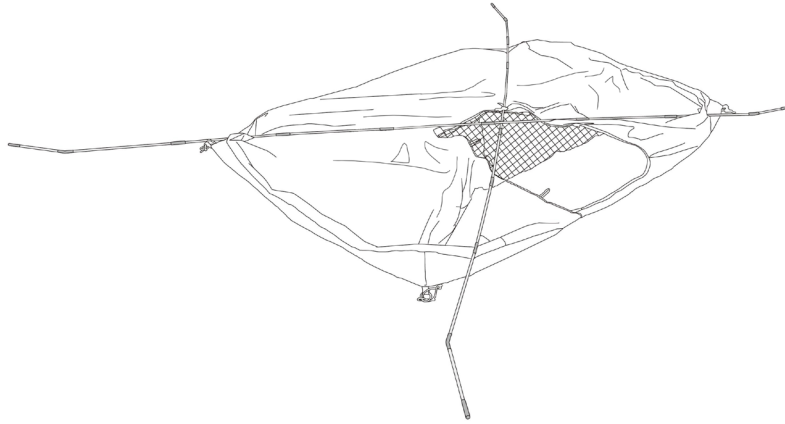

Animals and Insects

1. To prevent damage from animals chewing holes in the Tent fabric, never store food or cooking equipment in the Tent. When packing away, ensure that there are no insects inside the Tent as they may try to eat their way out causing holes in the material.
