

Unisync Selected as Uniform Provider to Rocky Mountaineer

TORONTO, March 29, 2019 -- Unisync Corp. (TSX: "UNI") ("Unisync") is pleased to announce that its subsidiary, Unisync Group Limited ("UGL"), has entered into a multi-year contract to provide uniforms to all on-board and destination employees of the Rocky Mountaineer passenger railway. This agreement represents the culmination of an extensive review of Unisync's customer-focused service, award winning designs, product quality and technological innovation.

"We are proud to have been selected as their partner to create and supply new uniforms which will form part of the Rocky Mountaineer ultimate travel experience," commented UGL President, B. James Bottoms. "We look forward to working with Rocky Mountaineer as their new image apparel is introduced later this year on all four distinctive rail routes that travel in British Columbia, Alberta and the Pacific Northwest and wind through some of the World's most beautiful landscapes of rivers and valleys forming part of the Rocky Mountain Range."

"We are pleased to partner with UGL to outfit our team in uniforms that are of high-quality and comfort, and reflect our brand," said Mark Southern, SVP and COO, Rocky Mountaineer.
