

Controlled Chaos
#502
July 12th, 2024
Giuseppe Ribaldo
giucygiuce@gmail.com

Improv meets foundation paper piecing meets mystery quilt. Need I say more?! Join Giucy Giuce as he demonstrates his foundation paper pieced approach to improv sewing in this BRAND NEW workshop, Controlled Chaos: An FPPers approach to improv! We'll draw improvisational elements at random from a bag. You will then learn to draft your own improv inspired FPP designs based off the mystery element. The motifs will be the same, but everyone's pieces will be uniquely their own. This workshop will be a lively one! We'll set a timer to work on each element so we can pull enough designs to make a unique project. We'll cover all sorts of looks and styles. Triangles, flying geese, stripes, wonky shapes. You can make a pillow, wall hanging, or a whole quilt if you so choose! Whether you're an FPPER who loves the look of improv but long for the structure of paper piecing or you're an improv sewist looking for a new way to approach your work, this workshop truly has something for everyone. Bring an adventurous spirit to what is sure to be an exciting workshop you won't want to miss!

Level of Difficulty: Intermediate and FPP recommended

Supplies:

- Background fabric (Assortment of large scraps or a yard)
- Large scraps or an assortment of Fat eights/Fat Quarters
- 3" wide roll of receipt paper (I will have these available for purchase for $3 - cash please)
- Rotary Cutter
- Sewing Machine
- Thread (I recommend Decobob by WonderFil)
- Rulers (12" add a quarter ruler suggested)
- Cutting mat
- Seam ripper
- Seam roller/seam presser
- Transparent tape
- Pencils/pens