Train For An Active Shooter Anytime & Anywhere

The UNIT4 Training Rifle is the premier non-lethal training system to train for active shooters through its combination of safety and realism. The rifle is manufactured by Lewis Machine & Tool with the same real steel components that they build into their AR-15, but it has been classified by ATF as a non-firearm. The system features realistic trigger pull, rate of fire and recoil and can be safely deployed to conduct training:

- In And Around Your Department – Set up room clearing drills in any unused space. Utilize outdoor spaces to work on building entries. Rotate the kit around to complete CQB training on slow nights.
- Schools, Churches, Theaters, Malls – Ease the concerns of stakeholders with a 100% dedicated non-lethal system. Complete scenario-based training in locations where these incidents actually occur. Non-lethal training ammo will bounce off glass and markers clean off walls with towel and water.
- At Home – Send the UNIT4 home with your officers to enable them to practice rifle handling and tactics on their own time. Increase rifle touchpoints for patrol officers in between qualifications. No FFL or chain of custody requirements.
