

Object of the Game: Hold all the cards in the deck.

How to Play: Chose a dealer. The Dealer shuffles the cards and then deals one card to each player until all the cards are dealt. Depending on the number of players one or more players may have one less card than the others. Each player starts with their cards face down in front of them. Do not look at the cards! The player to the left of the dealer goes first and play continues quickly in a clockwise direction. Each player, in turn, draws the top card from their pile and without looking at it, places it face up in the center of the play area. Jack is the alien trying to invade our solar system. Whenever Jack appears in the center of the play area, every player tries to slap their hand first over the Jack card. The first person to slap Jack wins all the cards in the center. The winner of the Jack will take the cards, shuffle them, and place them face down at the bottom of his or her pile. Play then continues from the point it left off.

Penalty: Don't slap a card other than the Jack! If you do, you must take the top card from your pile and place it in the center of the pile belonging to the player who played the card you slapped.

Out of the Game: A player who runs out of cards gets one last chance to get back in the game. If they are the first person to slap the very next Jack turned up by another player, they win those cards and are back in the game. If someone else slaps the Jack then the player out of cards is permanently out of the game.
