

Party Games

Capture The Flag

Divide the youth into two teams, each with its own territory. Each team will have a bandana – a flag, which must be guarded by some team members while others try to grab the opponent's flag. If an opponent is in your territory, you can tag them and send them to jail – a designated area where prisoners are kept. Players must stay in jail until one of their own team can run in and tag them to free them. (Only one prisoner can be rescued at a time.) A team wins the game by capturing the other flag and bearing it back to their home territory.

Blind Lineup

Give each youth a bandana to use as a blindfold, and then ask the group to put order themselves from the the shortest to the tallest in order fo height.

String Tag

This is a normal game of tag, but the person who is "it" is armed with a can of Goofy String. One person is chosen as "it." The goal is for the person who is "it" to hit another person with the string. Once he does, that person is "it" and takes the can. The game can continue until everyone is covered in Goofy String.
