

SUCCESS STARTS AT THE SOURCE

In the beginning, we set out to do one thing: create the finest CBD products in the world. But to achieve that, we had to become experts at everything, from genetics to farming, extraction to manufacturing. And we knew that everything we produced on the path from DNA to CBD would have to be second to none. It was a lot of pressure. But the results have been worth it.

Today, we provide discerning wholesalers, retailers, brands and fellow growers with premium quality raw materials and finished products—from artisanal clones to award-winning hemp flower and extracts that are quickly becoming everyone's favorite not-so-secret ingredient. With our end-to-end capabilities, Nevada Crest Farms can fill any gap in your supply chain—consistently, efficiently, and to the most exacting standards.

On the following pages, you'll discover the kind of luxury hemp and CBD products that an increasingly selective marketplace demands. The result of our uncompromising obsession. And the source of your competitive advantage.

WHY US

EXCEPTIONAL QUALITY. RELENTLESS CONSISTENCY. RADICAL TRANSPARENCY. FROM DNA TO CBD.

When something means this much to you, “good enough” never is. So the principles that drove us from the start continue to guide us to this day:

Quality first, last and always. It's in everything we do, from genetics to white-glove farming, small-batch CO2 extraction, GMP-compliant manufacturing, and third-party testing (over 20 times throughout production). But it's also in what we don't do: GMOs, pesticides, herbicides, growing from seed, or out-sourcing. So that you can be as proud of our products as we are.

Keep every promise. When you're building your businesses on the strength of our products, we owe it to you to deliver the quality, cannabinoid and terpene profiles your customers expect, on time, every time. Demand for top-shelf hemp and CBD products is increasing exponentially. And with six harvests a year, we're making sure a consistent supply is there to meet it.

Trust is worth earning. And transparency is the currency. So we publicly post our COAs (Certificates of Analysis) on our website. And we welcome tours of our farm, so you can see how we do things, meet the team, and ask us anything. The peace of mind you get from our products starts with the peace of mind you get from our people.

Every step matters. That's why we own the entire journey from source to shelf. Growing exclusively from clones of mother plants we cultivate ourselves, we hand-tend and hand-harvest every crop and bring that same craftsmanship to our CO2 extraction and GMP-compliant manufacturing. Because each step is only as certain as the one before it.

WHEN YOU'RE BUILDING YOUR BUSINESSES ON THE STRENGTH OF OUR PRODUCTS, WE OWE IT
TO YOU TO DELIVER ...
EVERY TIME.

OUR STORY

NATURE NEVER COMPROMISES. NEITHER DO WE.

Nevada Crest Farms is what happens when you refuse to settle for the way things are, and begin to change them into what you always knew they could be.

That's what led our founder, Heather Wilson, on a mission to craft the finest, most effective CBD in the world. As a second-generation holistic health professional, she understood the enormous therapeutic potential of CBD to alleviate chronic pain, inflammation, stress, anxiety ... and its potential to change the face of modern agriculture.

But too much of that opportunity was being lost due to the lack of reliable, consistently uncompromising sources. For Heather, the solution was clear:

Become the source.

That would mean more than just growing the hemp or extracting the CBD or manufacturing the products. It meant doing it all, and doing it better than it had ever been done before. So in 2018, backed by science, relentless commitment and over 35 years of nutraceutical and agricultural experience, Heather's vision came to fruition in the form of Nevada Crest Farms.

Today, we're growing more than award-winning hemp. We're growing an industry. With proven genetics that help farmers achieve premium, consistent, high-yielding harvests. With seven strains and six harvests a year, enabling wholesalers to meet the increasing demand for top-shelf, high-CBD hemp and full-spectrum biomass. And with rigorously-tested, small-batch CBD that finally provides discerning resellers, private label clients and top-selling brands with the source they've been waiting for.

TODAY, WE'RE GROWING MORE THAN AWARD-WINNING HEMP.
WE'RE GROWING AN INDUSTRY.

OUR FARM

160 ACRES. 110 PERCENT.

Under the warmth of the Nevada sun, nestled between Mount Charleston and the Nopah Vista, is a place where science and nature, craft and innovation converge. Welcome to Nevada Crest Farms.

From our 100,000 square feet of CEA-controlled hydroponics and greenhouse facilities to the fertile fields of our 160-acre, white-glove farm, you'll find our dedicated team (including our CEO) tending every plant, every row by hand. Hand-picking the weeds. Hand-harvesting our award-winning flower. Hand-cutting and hand-shucking our full-spectrum biomass. All of it grown right here, exclusively from the clones we hand-cultivate.

This is what we mean by "white-glove" farming. It's painstaking work, to be sure. But when it results in the finest hemp and CBD products in the world, harvest after harvest, year after year, we think it's worth it.

YOU'LL FIND OUR DEDICATED TEAM (INCLUDING OUR CEO) TENDING EVERY PLANT, EVERY ROW BY HAND.

The roots of our success ... and yours:

Only products cloned, grown, harvested and extracted here, by us, earn the right to carry the Nevada Crest Farms name.

No matter how close to nature we may be, our cultivation and extraction processes are always guided by the most advanced research in the field.

No GMOs, no pesticides, no herbicides, nothing Mother Nature wouldn't approve of. (Even our proprietary nutrient formula is organic.)

When it's this good, they keep coming back for more. We keep it growing with drip irrigation, resource re-use, and the only licensed hydroponics operation in Nevada.

RAW MATERIALS

Using every part of the plant is the epitome of sustainability. That's why we offer—and use in our products—premium CBD hemp trimmings: from the bits of hemp flower and trichomes that we turn into shake and kief, to the leaves and stalks that become biomass. Kept climate-controlled to preserve its therapeutic properties, our shake and kief is used in everything from tinctures to teas, while our biomass makes for potent oils and distillates. This plant just keeps on giving.

Our premium CBD hemp is meticulously hand-trimmed, for premium trimmings from all parts of the flower. Applying the same exacting quality standards to trimmings as we do to our award-winning hemp flower, we sell nothing less than premium, "A" Grade shake, rich in CBD and a full spectrum of cannabinoids and terpenes. This is shake from the source—one source: us—all hand-trimmed from premium CBD hemp, cloned and grown for maximum purity and potency, right here on our farm. Great for rolling and smoking, or for cooking, tinctures and teas, our shake is as coveted for its flavor and phytochemical profiles as it is for its therapeutic effects.

BIOMASS

When you work this hard to grow top-shelf hemp, you don't let any part of it go to waste. Our hemp biomass is what remains after the plants are expertly cured and the flowers hand-harvested.

There's no grit. No mold. Just premium plant matter, chock-full of a complex array of cannabinoids and terpenes. Nevada Crest Farms biomass consistently yields full-spectrum oils and broad-spectrum distillates with cannabinoid levels as high as 80-100% and CBD levels ranging from 75-85%.

CBD EXTRACTS

To achieve the quality, purity and potency our extracts are known for, we use only small-batch, supercritical CO2 extraction, testing continuously to ensure optimal phytochemical composition. We've always been committed to clean, keeping our CBD oil free of intoxicating particles and all our products free of harsh chemicals.

FULL-SPECTRUM WHOLE HEMP EXTRACT

This is the purest representation of everything the hemp plant has to offer, from CBD to terpenes to trace amounts of THC. This complete phytochemical profile creates a synergistic “entourage effect” for maximum therapeutic value. Used in tinctures, gel caps, gummies and other applications where a full spectrum of phytochemicals is beneficial, our extracts are diluted to below 0.3% THC and available in your choice of carrier oil (olive oil, MCT oil or hemp seed oil).

THC-FREE WHOLE HEMP EXTRACT

Cannabinoid-rich yet completely free of THC, this broad-spectrum extract maintains the uncompromising quality, purity and potency we’re known for thanks to our supercritical CO2 extraction method. It’s available diluted in your choice of carrier oil (olive oil, MCT oil or hemp seed oil), or without, for use in formulating sublingual tinctures, edibles and animal health and wellness products that demand a range of active cannabinoids and terpenes without any THC.

ARTISANAL CLONES

When growing hemp commercially for CBD, you want to ensure consistent phytochemical composition, efficient grows and predictable yields. Clones present the perfect solution—when chosen wisely. Choose clones cut from mother plants that are proven to be feminized, disease-free, CBD-rich and THC-compliant, with the characteristics your customers demand. While seeds are ideal for harsh conditions, long-range transit or delayed planting, they simply can't compare to the level of reliability and consistency that our precision-cultivated clones provide. We wouldn't grow from anything less, and we wouldn't recommend you do, either.
