

Worthy Girl / CONSIGNMENT CONTRACT

WE KNOW IT'S A PAIN IN THE PANTS, BUT PLEASE READ THE ENTIRE CONTRACT. TRUST US, THE ANSWERS TO YOUR MOST BURNING QUESTIONS ARE MOST LIKELY ANSWERED BELOW.

Worthy Girl accepts women's clothing, handbags, shoes and accessories. All items will be reviewed before being accepted for consignment and must be clean, dry, odorless, and pet hair free. Worthy Girl reserves the right to refuse any item. Any item found to be damaged after initial intake will be discounted or donated without further notice. _____ Initial

Worthy Girl will determine pricing for items left on consignment and has the right to markdown said items for sales, events, promotions, etc. _____ Initial

A small fee ($1) will be added to the price of each item to cover merchandise processing. This fee is passed onto the buyer and is not split with the consignor. _____ Initial

Worthy Girl is not responsible for loss by fire, water, theft, or acts of nature for any items left for consignment. _____ Initial

The consignment period is 60 days. If a consigned item sells within 60 days, the consignor will get 40% of the selling price as store credit (with a 10% discount on full priced items) or a check. _____ Initial

Checks are not automatically generated. They will be processed upon request following the end of the 60-day consignment period. Checks can be picked up at Worthy Girl, or can be mailed ($2 fee). _____ Initial

The consignor has the option to take back any unsold items following the expiration of the 60-day consignment period. To do so, the consignor must call on the expiration date on their inventory list. Any items not picked up by the consignor within 7 days following the expiration of their 60-day consignment period shall be deemed abandoned and become property of Worthy Girl. _____ Initial

I have read and understand the terms of this contract and therefore will not email Worthy Girl at 1am asking how long my consignment period is or any other silly questions that are clearly answered above :)
