

Last Look

embroidered mahjong napkins ($90 for set of four/ Olivia G.)

Tile Files
Check out the ever-growing assortment of tile designs from Dallas' own The Mahjong Line!

Concession Stands

These tables nestle into the corners of your game table to keep refreshments within reach. When the game's over, fit them together and use as a side table.

Madre x The Mahjong Line
"Minimal Puzzle" cocktail tables (from $1,150/ Madre)

Game On!

If you think "King" when we say "Kong," you haven't been playing mahjong. Originating in 19th-century China, the game has taken Dallas by storm, with tile sets and themed accessories popping up in shops all over town. Knowing that a gamer is only as good as her table, the design minds at Madre teamed up with Dallas-based The Mahjong Line to create a collection of card and cocktail tables perfect for a foursome. The card tables come in two sizes and three neutral materials (choose from cerused oak, burl wood, or vinyl grass cloth), while the accompanying cocktail tables add a colorful pop of fun and function to your ladies' night.

Learn Your Lesson

Don't know your bams from your cracks? Let these local instructors school you in the hottest game going:

Mahjong Molly

Clients rave about Molly Hardy's ability to break down the complex game. She offers in-person and virtual options.
mahjongmolly.com

Mahj with Mar

Former kindergarten teacher Marian Pearson Brisch has a knack for instruction and hosts tournaments at Vector Brewing.
@mahjwithmar

sugar cookies ($65 per dozen/ Lefty Lucy Cookies)

Oh My Mahjong pearl bag ($50/ Dunbar Road)

Oh My Mahjong tweed tote ($125/ Talulah & Hess)