

WOODSTOCK CHIMES EXPANDS THEIR BEST-SELLING COLLECTIONS WITH 2023 NEW RELEASES

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W5gDFZAX5NU>

SULLIVAN, INC., (www.sullivangift.com) an industry leading marketer that incorporates timeless designs into on-trend home décor for every style, season, and occasion, acquired Woodstock Chimes (the industry leader in musically-tuned wind chimes) in 2021.

Created in 1979 by GRAMMY® Award-winning musician, Garry Kvistad, Woodstock Chimes are tuned to beautiful melodies and scales from around the world. This winter, Woodstock Chimes adds twenty-three new products to their popular line-up of chimes, bells, and suncatchers.

The new additions include both new ideations and variations on the brand's most popular products. Three of the chimes in Woodstock's Encore® Collection, a collection of chimes hand-tuned to a universal five-note scale and designed to harmonize with each other, are now available in new finishes. The Chimes of Venus™ is now available in a silver finish and the Chimes of Earth™ and Chimes of Pluto™ are now both available in a harbor gray option.

“Consumers are always looking to add to their collection of musically-tuned windchimes and we are always excited to provide new options for them,” says Woodstock Chimes’ president Stacey Bowers of the new 2023 line. “We’ve introduced these new products with harmonization in mind.”

Fresh variations are also available in the Woodstock Habitats Collection, Woodstock Temple Bells, and among the Chimes of Crystal Silence. Ten exciting new Crystal Dreams ornaments join the wide selection of Rainbow Makers Collection. These beautiful glass suncatchers feature Austrian crystals, gold-plated brass chains, and multi-colored translucent resin decorations in a variety of uplifting and inspirational shapes.

New products include an exciting new Sea Glass Chime, which features a blue-wash wood top and 13 blue and white frosted glass “waves” in place of the traditional tubes, and a new Trio Bamboo Chime features 21 painted tubes in three different shades of bamboo.

New and existing Woodstock Chimes make a wonderful gift option for special occasions such as Valentine’s Day, Mother’s and Father’s Day, birthdays, anniversaries, and Holiday events. The many varieties of Woodstock Chimes also make them an ideal remembrance for teachers, neighbors, co-workers and loved ones.

Woodstock Chimes 2023 line is on display in One Coast showrooms in Dallas, Atlanta, and Las Vegas, and can be viewed at woodstockchimes.com

About Woodstock Chimes, Inc.

Woodstock Chimes is operated and distributed by Sullivan, Inc.

Sullivans is a leader in the home décor and gift industry offering quality, versatile home décor for every style, season and occasion to retailers and consumers nationwide. Sullivans aims to create emotional connections with customers around the world through inspiring product design, award-winning customer service and focused consumer trend marketing and research.

Headquartered in South Dakota, Sullivans also has showrooms in Atlanta, Dallas, Las Vegas, and Sioux Falls; and a highly interactive virtual market to offer buyers a free, convenient way to browse and purchase products online.

For more information on Sullivans or to view their wide range of products, visit sullivangift.com or their new consumer website sullivanshomedecor.com. In addition to its Sullivans brand, Sullivans, Inc. also operates and distributes Woodstock Chimes, the Darren Gygi Home Collection, Vance Kitira Candles, Woodstock Elements, Candle Impressions and Mirage Flameless LED Candles. Combined they bring nearly 150 years of industry product and design experience and the ability to adapt to consumers' regularly changing needs.

All products referenced are registered to Woodstock Chimes and Sullivans, Inc.