

Woodstock Chimes® Launches Woodstock Blue Lapis Chime™
New design features stunning color contrast

SHOKAN, N.Y., February 9, 2021 – Woodstock Chimes®, The World's Favorite Windchime™ and leading manufacturer of musically tuned windchimes, has launched the Woodstock Blue Lapis Chime™ (SKU: WBLC), showcasing lapis, a beautiful, blue-colored stone often found with veins of white marble. Featuring Woodstock Chimes' popular “golden ratio” tuning, the chime has black finish ash wood, four antiqued silver square aluminum tubes, a faux blue lapis windcatcher and blue stone bead accents. The resulting contrast is unusually captivating. The chime measures 21 inches in overall length and is one of over 20 new products Woodstock Chimes has launched for winter 2021.

“Our square-tube chimes with ‘golden ratio’ tuning sound terrific and are always popular, which prompted the additional design,” said Garry Kvistad, founder and owner of Woodstock Chimes and a GRAMMY® Award-winning musician. “The sophisticated look of the new Woodstock Blue Lapis Chime is a great addition to the Décor Design series within our Signature Collection™. One of my all-time favorite recordings is the 1959 album Kind of Blue by Miles Davis. Miles had given the band only sketches of scales and melody lines on which to improvise. This is how a windchime works as well! The chime is the instrument, the improvising wind is the performer. Blue is said to have properties of inspiration, sincerity and spirituality and is known as the color of cold weather, water and the sky, which makes the chime seem perfect for many occasions throughout the year.”

The Woodstock Blue Lapis Chime comes ready to give in a kraft gift box, retails for $30, has a lifetime tuning guarantee and is available for immediate shipping.
