Capiz Chimes

Our handcrafted capiz wind chimes are made by Balinese artisans. Hand-strung and hand-dyed, these chimes are made of natural, renewable materials. The pieces used in our chimes are sliced, shaped, sanded and dyed. Then they are strung together with strong nylon cord. The resulting chimes provide luminous color that is striking, especially when light shines through them.

Singing in the Rain

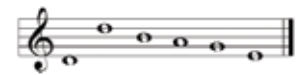

Our one-of-a-kind Singing in the Rain chime, which is tuned to the opening notes of the classic song of the same name and features small bamboo tubes inside that mimic the sound of pattering raindrops, is now available in a large size with a deeper tone!

Did you know? Choosing the size of a chime is about more than just the space you have to fill - chimes can sound completely different! Larger chimes have a deeper, more resonant sound whereas the smaller chimes have a higher, clearer tone.

Barbershop Harmony

Barbershop quartet music is characterized by close four-part harmonies, where the lead sings the melody, while the tenor harmonizes above, the bass sings the lowest notes, and the baritone provides the in-between notes to create chords. People enjoy barbershop quartets for their unique vocal harmonies, intricate arrangements, and nostalgic sound.

Our brand new Barbershop Harmony chime evokes these same feelings. Tuned to the harmonies of a barbershop quartet, it brings all the nostalgia of a barbershop quartet right to your backyard.
