THERMAL WATER

Hungary's favourable geographical position and unique hydrography have contributed to the development of – one of its most well-known national treasures – thermal wells, which are outstanding both in quality and in quantity.

The thermal water breaking to the surface from more than 1.000 meter depth, contains plenty of minerals such as sodium hydrogen-carbonate, iron, iodine, calcium, magnesium, potassium, fluorine, sulfur, and carbon dioxide. which has extraordinary healing properties for healing aching joints and muscles, soothing irritated or eczema affected skin and strengthening nails and hair.

Besides their nourishing Shea Butter and moisturising Vitamin E content, each bar of ZADOR soap is made by using thermal water of Europe's largest healing warmwater lake, Lake Hévíz, which is World Heritage Site Ingredients such as calcium, magnesium and sulphur rarely occur together naturally.

We are connected by so many ties to the Balaton, that we felt we need to create something lasting here to further increase the reputation of Pécsely and the Balaton.
