STAR DREAMING THE SEVEN SISTERS

For indigenous Australians the star cluster Pleiades in the constellation Taurus is known as the Seven Sisters. Stories described them as a group of young women being pursued by unwanted male attention. Featured on this coin is Wajarri-Noongar artist Christine 'Jugarnu' Collard's artwork Seven Jijas (sisters). Indigenous Australians were the first astronomers and have long used the stars as maps.

The Yamaji people of the Murchison region in Western Australia, refer to the Seven Sister stars as Nyarluwarri in the Wajarri language. When Nyarluwarri sits low on the horizon at sunset, the people know that emu eggs are ready for harvesting.

With a small mintage of 5000, this 1/2oz silver frosted uncirculated one dollar dated 2020 features artwork by Wiradjuri artist Scott Towney.

ALSO AVAILABLE:

The majesty and wonder of the Emu in the Sky constellation is captured in the art of Wiradjuri artist Scott Towney on this stunning uncirculated one dollar. The constellation is a silhouette traced by the dark spaces in the Milky Way, stretching from the Southern Cross to Sagittarius.

WINGED VICTORY 2021

In Greek mythology, Nike was invited to live on Mount Olympus by Zeus, the king of the gods, as a reward for becoming his charioteer during the Titan War. Guiding Zeus' horses through the battlefields, she is said to have bestowed fame and glory in the form of laurel wreaths on his victorious army.

In Australia, she was the inspiration for Gilbert Doble's Winged Victory, created for the top of the Marrickville Soldiers' Memorial unveiled in Sydney after World War I. Having suffered considerably from the elements, the elegant copper statue was restored and permanently transferred to the Australian War Memorial in Canberra in 2013 as an object of national significance.

The Winged Victory 2021 1oz Silver and 1oz Gold Proof coins portrays an Art Deco style interpretation of Nike. Her muscular figure, symbolising strength, is seen kneeling as she honours an unseen hero with a victory laurel in the palm of her right hand. She holds a sword in a non-threatening position low on her left side as a gesture of respect. In a magnificent design flourish, Nike's figure is enveloped in a beautifully symmetrical representation of her feathered wings.

ZUYTDORP SHIPWRECK

The Royal Australian Mint has released the third coin in the Australian Shipwreck series of triangular shaped 1oz 99.9% silver one dollar coins, featuring the ill-fated Zuytdorp.

In 1711, Dutch East India Company trading ship, the Zuytdorp (meaning 'South Village'), set out from the Netherlands for Batavia on what was to be its third and final voyage.

After nearly seven months at sea with scurvy claiming the lives of many men, the Zuytdorp continued its journey from the Cape of Good Hope via the Indian Ocean.

$1 1oz 99.9% SILVER TRIANGULAR, UNC $65.00

ALSO AVAILABLE:

This coin, a collaboration between the Royal Australian Mint's designer Vladimir Gottwald and the Perth Numismatic Society, commemorates the shipwreck of the VOC Zuytdorp.

The East India Company's VOC Zuytdorp met a rocky end south of Shark Bay off the west coast of Australia during the winter of 1712. The wreck was not discovered until 1964. Much of the ship's important artifacts have since been looted, including many of the silver coins which were on board.

The reverse depicts a detailed design of a Dutch 1711 2 stuiver piece and an underwater snapshot of the watery grave where a reported 'carpet of silver' once graced the ocean floor.

1966 EXPERIMENTAL PROOF SET

EXTREMELY RARE

THIRD TIME IN
54 YEARS THAT
WYNARD COINS
HAS SOLD A SET.

All 1966 proof sets were issued in an unsealed, hinged lid presentation case but a total of just 12 sets were used in an experimental sealed, see-both-sides hard plastic case. This case was later used to house proof sets issued from 1969 to 1984. Some of the experimental sets were later sold to mint employees.

Even though the coins in these sets were sealed, the fact that they were experimental in nature has resulted in many of the sets now containing toned, spotted and turned coins, particularly the bronze 1 and 2 cent pieces and the round silver 50 cent coin.

We have on offer one such set purchased from the Royal Australian Mint in 1969. This is the best quality set of the three we have handled!

STAR REPLACEMENT ONE POUND NOTE

Between 1942 and 1971, Australia's Banknote issuing authorities used notes produced in separate printing runs to replace notes that were spoiled in the printing process. They were known as 'star notes' because the last digit of the serial number of each replacement note featured an asterisk or star.

The first signatures to be replaced in this way were Armitage/McFarlane Ten Shillings and One Pounds.

We have on offer a (1949) Coombs/Watt One Pound Star Replacement note with the prefix 1/8 in crisp original, extremely fine condition.

(Catalogue Value $14,000.00)
