BLACK SWAN MAALI SILVER ANTIQUED COLOURED

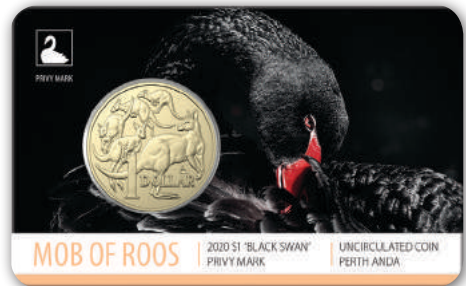

This first of its kind 2oz silver antiqued coloured coin features an original coloured painting of a black swan by Kevin Bynder, a proud Whadjuk-Yuet-Ballardong man.

The 2 dollar coin's reverse design represents maali descending on water with its enormous wings stretched skywards. The background is formed by stylised patterns of coloured dots inspired by a palette of ochre pigments used by Indigenous artists through time – reds and browns for the landscape, blues, greens and other hues for the water and its currents.

x55%

To celebrate the Lunar Year of the Tiger, the Royal Australian Mint has released this 2022 $30 1kg Silver Proof Coin featuring the charming and powerful Tiger and the Lunar calendar wheel. The Tiger is the third of the twelve signs in the Chinese Zodiac. According to legend, the Jade Emperor announced a Great Race to establish the order of the twelve signs of the Zodiac. At the end of the race the animals had to cross a fast-flowing river to take their place in the Zodiac. The confident Tiger was a likely contender to win, but kept getting swept downstream by the strong currents.

PALLADIUM EMU 3 COIN SET

From the Greek name 'Pallas', goddess of wisdom, Palladium was discovered by the British chemist William Hyde Wollaston in 1804. It took nearly two centuries for palladium's significance to be recognized, and the fight against global pollution owes a lot to this unique metal.

Following the perfection of his technique to obtain pure samples of platinum in 1801, William Hyde Wollaston went on to isolate palladium from platinum two years later by dissolving native platinum in aqua regia (a mixture of hydrochloric and nitric acid). He named it after Pallas, the ancient Greek goddess of wisdom whose name had also been recently lent to the second asteroid ever discovered.

The Palladium Emu series consists of a thematic progression of three proof $40 coins released by the Perth Mint over a three year period between 1995 and 1997.
