

PALM BEACH LIFE

A Chantecler "Maiolica" ring in rose gold, titanium, blue sapphire and turquoise.

A Chantecler bell charm of yellow gold, diamond, yellow sapphire and tanzanite.

Via Coquina also sells other items, including this Themis Z tableware.

Italian flair at Via Coquina

Photos by Meghan McCarthy

Palm Beach Daily News
USA TODAY NETWORK

Via Coquina, a Worth Avenue emporium of artisanal jewelry, clothing and housewares, hosted an "Italian Trilogy" trunk show on Friday.

The jewels on display — from Chantecler Capri, Vendorafa and Gismondi 1754 — will join the shop's collection of handmade items curated by owner Cara Polites Ferro from her travels.

Products for sale in the store include fine jewelry from Capri and the Greek islands, one-of-a-kind vintage pieces, and bespoke engraved jewelry handcrafted in the Via Coquina studio. In addition, the store is "committed to environmental and humanitarian causes" and is "a proud member of 1% for the Planet," according to the website.

Via Coquina is at 32 Via Mizner. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday to Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. For more information, go to www.via.coquina.com or call 561-300-4012.

Massimo Zerbin, of Miami and Milan, shows jewelry to Joan Goldberg of West Palm Beach as Via Coquina hosts an Italian Trilogy trunk show featuring handcrafted jewelry by Chantecler Capri, Vendorafa and Gismondi 1754 on Friday. The jewelry will continue to be sold at Via Coquina.

Chantecler diamond jellyfish earrings.

A hammered yellow-gold, black diamond cuff and a hammered rose gold and diamond cuff.