ReGenerated resin furniture

In 2019 the Regeneration industrial programme aimed to produce outdoor furniture made of recycled plastic, which in turn can too be recycled.

The result is a line of Terra coloured tables & stools with a textured matt finish resembling the natural colour of the earth and all made of post-industrial and post-consumer polypropylene, giving this plastic a new life.

The uneven colour changes into various shades of brown which is not a defect but a specific feature of recycled plastic as post-consumer plastic compounds that vary slightly in their characteristics.
