Fill in the empty column of boxes with the tiles at the bottom so that you get a new five-letter word reading across every row and a word reading down that column in the center. Some tiles might make new words in more than one row, but only one arrangement will allow the whole set to work.