3. Use 4 blocks stitched together as a pattern to cut interfacing and batting to match.		more stability through the process.
4. Sandwich batting between blocks and interfacing, pin. Edgestitch on back side on interfacing all around.
5. Using 4 block sandwich as a pattern, cut backing 1" larger all around than block sandwich.
6. Center block sandwich on backing Wrong sides together, pin.
7. Bind from back side mitering corners. Fold excess backing to edge of block sandwich, fold once more to overlap edge of block sandwich. Edgestitch using preferred stitch style. At corners, fold binding on bias to edge of block, fold to to edge again to form miter.	Stop stitching about 3" before edge of block, needle down, to work on your miter.
8. Gently press from back side.
